Emotional - an IBM Watson analysis of social media words

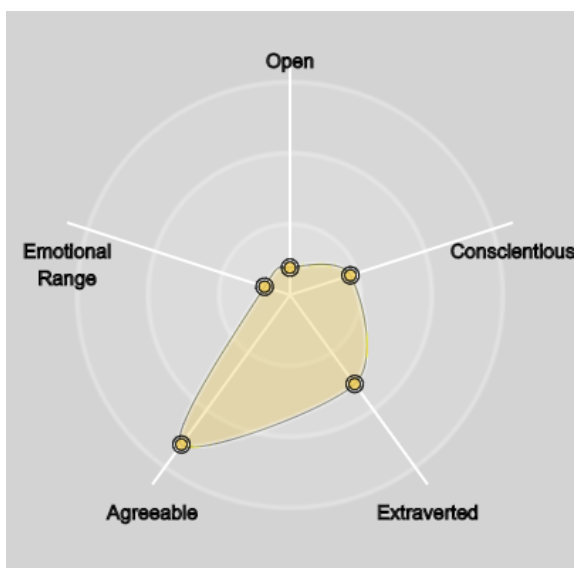

Sad: 49.93
Disgusted: 6.77
Angry: 9.01
Fearful: 7.87
Joyful: 62.59

Emotional tone is inferred from different types of emotions and feelings that people express in their language. Emotions are commonly characterized as:

- Sadness indicates a feeling of loss and disadvantage.
- Disgust is an emotional response of revulsion to something considered offensive or unpleasant.
- Anger is evoked due to injustice, conflict, humiliation, negligence, or betrayal.
- Fear is a response to impending danger. It may be a mild caution or an extreme phobia.
- Joyful indicates enjoyment, satisfaction, and a sense of well-being.

Big 5 Personality - an IBM Watson analysis of social media words

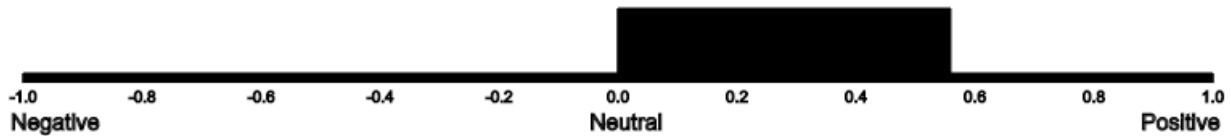

Agreeable: 86.75
Conscientious: 29.83
Extraverted: 51.65
Emotional Range: 12.54
Open: 12.86

Big 5 personality characteristics represent the widely used model for describing how a person engages with the world. The five characteristics are:

- Agreeableness is tendency to be compassionate and cooperative toward others.
- Conscientiousness is a tendency to act in an organized or thoughtful way.
- Extraverted is a person's tendency to seek stimulation in the company of others.
- Emotional Range is the extent one's emotions are sensitive to the person's environment.

- Open is the extent how open one is to experiencing a variety of activities.

Sentiment

The sentiment score indicates negative or positive attitude in the overall way a person expresses themselves through social media. Anything below a score of -0.2 is considered negative and anything above +0.2 is considered positive. Anything in between is neutral.

In the past week we have had people bring food to our nurses, and offer to make more (yes these people have been very cautious), we have had community members and friends from all over offer to make homemade masks (yes we understand this is not ideal but given the circumstances we are glad to have something for our patients)! I say this all cautiously for the ones who will speak negatively. But this is community, these are our people, and this is what America is all about! W...e are headed into unknown times. We cannot tell you how hard this virus will hit our little community because at this time we do not know! But what I do know is we have an abundance of amazing people in our community and together we will get through whatever lies ahead. So please continue to love one another. Continue to check on your neighbors. Continue to do your part by staying home the best you can. Continue to pray for each other, our community, our nation and our world! And hopefully we will all come through this with a little more compassion for one another!

Calling all construction crews, painters ect! There is a nation wide shortage of masks! Healthcare workers will need these in the coming days! Please if you have them look to your local hospitals and donate. We will continue to see shortages throughout!
